

Market Intelligence Service

Making good decisions is essential for operating a successful business and in many cases these crucial decisions are made with less than optimal information. Considering business decisions are only as good as the information they are based upon it is essential that companies look to arm themselves with current, accurate, relevant and actionable information. Whether you're selling product in Calgary or Beijing, STEP can assist companies in collecting, identifying and analyzing pertinent data.

STEP's Market Intelligence service focuses on providing secondary (desk) research, supplemented by primary research when information gaps exist and it is feasible to do so. Our team has access to over $90,000 in subscription industry resources, which assists us in accessing the latest primary data. We supplement this with in-depth search knowledge of publicly available information from multiple sources, including government, industry and private sector sources. When this information does not quite answer the question, STEP will access its network of international trade professionals, which range from STEP's experiences trade staff to foreign-based government and industry professionals.

Examples of types of reports we provide include, but are not limited to:

- Market assessments and overviews
- Competitive intelligence and analysis
- Potential customer, manufacturer, dealer & distributor lists
- Political risk analysis
- Tariff and regulatory information
