About this Directory

With over 40% of Canada's cultivated farmland, Saskatchewan is in a unique position to sustainably produce safe, high-quality agri-food products and ingredients.

We have a vibrant food and beverage processing industry meeting growing food demand worldwide, including commercial-scale canola crushing and pulse processing operations. As a global leader in exporting agri-food products and the use of innovative, sustainable farming practices, Saskatchewan is primed to feed the world for generations.

If you would like a direct introduction to any of the listed companies, please contact the STEP team member listed on this page and they will be happy to facilitate the introduction.

Family owned and farmed in Saskatchewan Canada since 1960.

Organic farming is a way of life that our family takes seriously. Not only is it about the food we grow, it's more about taking care of the planet. On our farm we make sure to preserve land to its natural state as much as possible with preserving the wetlands and trees so animals and birds have a home. Placing bee houses so help save the bees that protect our planet. Making sure that our water ways are seeded to grass so water doesn't erode the soil. Planting flowers in rock piles. Helping mother nature and doing our part for tomorrow's generations is part of what we feel we need to do today!

The company is Saskatoon based, operating in the heart of North America's oilseed production region. Smart Earth work with the world's leading experts in oilseed breeding, agronomics and processing to deliver high quality Camelina at scale. Camelina is a highly sustainable source of omega 3. It can be produced on marginal lands and uses less water, fertilizers and chemicals as compared to other commonly produced oilseed crops such as flax and canola.

Products & Services

Camelina meal and oil products for the companion animal (food grade) and feed market from tote to rail car quantities. Smart Earth Camelina Oil is a high omega 3 oil at 38%, that also offers the ideal balance of omega 3 to 6 (2:1). These two features found together in one oil is what makes camelina stand out among omega oils. Its naturally occurring vitamin E provides antioxidant protection while also stabilizing the oil. Camelina has a 2-3 year shelf life, with low risk of oxidation rancidity.
